

Richard Robertson

Richard S. Robertson is a past President of the American Academy of Actuaries, a past President of the Society of Actuaries, and a former Chairman of the Actuarial Standards Board.

He has been Executive Vice President of Lincoln National Corp., a large life insurance holding company, where he has also served as the Chief Financial Officer and Chief Risk Management Officer. He has also had responsibilities in reinsurance, in product development and pricing, and in international operations.

He is currently retired.